Executive Summary

LIVE • EARN • PLAY • LEARN The City of Baltimore Comprehensive Master Plan is a plan that was eight years in the making! The planning process began in 1997. The objective was to create the first new comprehensive plan for Baltimore in over 30 years. While the process was led by the Department of Planning, the Fannie Mae Foundation and the Annie E. Casey Foundation partnered with the City, supporting outreach efforts which helped to ensure representative and intergenerational input to this important plan. More than 2,000 citizens participated in a dozen meetings and workshops to provide input into the plan and a draft of the PlanBaltimore document was released in April 1999. Hundreds more citizens provided comments on PlanBaltimore through letters, e-mail and input at two public review sessions. While the draft was greatly enhanced, it primarily provided policy recommendations instead of concise goals and strategies to move the City of Baltimore forward. PlanBaltimore created the framework for what Baltimoreans want Baltimore to be: a world-class city.

LIVE • EARN • PLAY • LEARN updates that vision and focuses on implementation steps needed to make that vision a reality. The Live, Earn, Play and Learn categories focus this Comprehensive Plan into discrete, attainable goals in order to respond to residents’ needs and visions for the future of Baltimore. This plan also contains all of the required elements and visions as prescribed by the governing State Code (Article 66B, § 1.02 & 1.03) and City Charter (Article VII, § 72 & 74).

Implementing Strategies

LIVE • EARN • PLAY • LEARN, The City of Baltimore Comprehensive Master Plan, supersedes the 1971 Master Plan and amendments and sets forth a citywide comprehensive six-year strategy. Different from comprehensive plans of the past, this planning effort sought to merge a business plan and a comprehensive urban development plan into one document. The Baltimore City Planning Commission thought it imperative that this document not be a plan for the shelves, never read, and never truly implemented. Instead, drafted in a business plan format, LIVE • EARN • PLAY • LEARN seeks to provide clear goals and objectives to do the following:
• Direct the City’s capital investment to more effectively use public resources

• Create zoning strategies which will match the zoning code to 21st Century land uses and patterns of economic and demographic development

• Develop a public policy approach that can be adopted and implemented by all segments of Baltimore.

Implementing Bodies and Agencies

The Mayor, the Mayor’s Cabinet and the City Council comprise the management level key to implementing the plan. Of the Cabinet, the Directors of Planning, Finance, Housing, Health, Transportation, Public Works, Recreation and Parks, and the Mayor’s Office of Employment Development are most important to the successful implementation of the Plan. Two quasi-city agencies, the Baltimore Development Corporation (BDC) and the Baltimore Area Convention and Visitor’s Association (BACVA) are critical to implementing the City’s economic development strategy.

The Baltimore City Public School System (BCPSS) is the one agency that is critical to the success of the plan that is NOT entirely governed by the Mayor and City Council. This agency has been integral to the development of the plan, however, and the school system’s Facilities Master Plan is required by law to be adopted as part of this Comprehensive Plan.

Other management entities of the Plan that are substantially influenced by the State through the budget process are the Maryland Transit Administration (MTA) and funding for substance abuse treatment. Note that the strategy for Growth Promotion Areas (GPA) is largely dependent on additional State dollars to direct future State growth into City areas with high levels of vacancy.

Are you part of the Plan…?

The most crucial stakeholders for the success and sustainability of this Plan include ALL residents, employers and employees in the City of Baltimore. Baltimore’s citizenry must direct elected officials to prioritize and balance many desirable actions with available resources, legal constraints and market conditions. The plan will support those seeking grants to carry out its purposes, provide protection of and encouragement for private investment, and give greater predictability and certainty to the City’s future. Many of these key stakeholders are organized and represented by the following groups who were identified as having a vital impact on the implementation of this Plan:
